

Dana Pourchez
Regional Property Manager
11 Years of Experience

“At Flaherty & Collins we have developed a strong reputation of managing properties that provide safe and affordable housing. It is my job as a regional property manager, working with property managers, to see that we continue to build on our status as a leader in the multifamily housing industry. We work every day to exceed the high standards our residents have come to expect from a Flaherty & Collins-managed property.”

Responsibilities

Dana supervises seven property managers and 21 other employees. She is responsible for the everyday running of the properties to ensure they were effectively using our company’s standard operating policies and procedures. Her other responsibilities include: putting together budgets; providing customer service; following fair housing guidelines; leasing apartments; collecting rental payments; serving demands for possession and attending court proceedings.
